

LEGACY WELCOMES IVAN HOLLER AS ITS NEWEST BOARD MEMBER

Phil Delaney, President of the Board, Jon C. Frandell, Karen Estes, Dominick Arena, Wil Gower and Alex Irving are pictured welcoming Ivan Holler as the newest Director of the Board for Legacy Endowment...The Community Foundation.

Ivan grew up in Fallbrook, attending the local schools. After graduating from Fallbrook Union High School, he went on to graduate from Cal Poly San Luis Obispo with a degree in Landscape Architecture and is licensed as a Landscape Architect.

Following college, he settled in Fallbrook with his wife and two sons. He has donated his time and efforts towards the Fallbrook parks and spent many hours building the fountain in the Village Square.

Ivan worked for the County of San Diego for just over 10 years, most recently as the Deputy Planning Director. He is currently the Planning Director for the Rancho Santa Fe Association.

The current Board members are honored to have Ivan be an integral part of their Board, volunteering his time for the Mission of Legacy.

Legacy manages over $10 million for donors that want to make a difference in the lives of their neighbors, by designating money to their favorite charities. As per the donor, Legacy gives an annual distribution to support those causes that the donor has a heart for.
